

DRILLS, EXERCISES, TRAININGS

HISTORY: 2007 OPERATION GOLDEN PHOENIX

The 2007 Operation Golden Phoenix (OGP-07) exercise scenario was based on a catastrophic earthquake along the San Andreas Fault that destroyed majority of the infrastructure throughout the state. The exercise took place on July 16-20 and 23-26, 2007. The purpose of OGP-07 was to provide civilian first responders the opportunity to train with military personnel and equipment that could be deployed during a catastrophic disaster event in the Southern California area.
